OBITUARY.

Be still prepared for death and death or life shall thereby be the sweeter.—
Shakespeare.

Again a wave of sorrow has passed over our community, and again a wife and mother has gone to the great beyond, leaving hearts desolate and wounded and sore bereaved. The deepest sympathy of closest friends cannot heal the aching void, no mere words are adequate or comforting. Only the healing touch of time and the grace of the Father above, who knows all, can close the wound. The whole city is sorrowing together with J. B. Weymouth and Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Holden over the sudden and death of wife and daughter Edith. On Monday morning Mrs. Weymouth became the mother of a bright and healthy boy, and seemingly all was well with her until about two p. m., when she was seized with a convulsion, passing from one to another until noon the following day. Everything possible was done for the racked and suffering body, but at seven p. m., Tuesday, April 18, 1911, her spirit quietly departed this life, leaving a husband, three small children, father, mother and brother, besides hosts of relatives and friends, almost stricken dumb in their grief.

October 11, 1882, was the birthday of Edith May Holden in Brockway township. Up to the time of her marriage she lived with her parents in Yale. She was married to J. B. Weymouth in June, 1907, and after living for a short time here they moved to Marlette where they made their home for about a year, then coming back to Yale for a permanent residence, living with Mr. and Mrs. Holden. Deceased was a bright young woman with a pleasing personality and christian disposition, which won her friends everywhere. Her early demise is much regretted.

The funeral services are being held this afternoon at 2:30, Rev. Gilchrist, pastor of the M. E. church, preaching the sermon. Interment in Elmwood cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Steven Windsor, whose death we noted last week, was held on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home on West North street, Rev. P. H. Case preaching. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends to pay the last respects to the departed. Beautiful flowers covered and were banked around the casket.

Alla Hubbard was born Sept. 6, 1869, at Dresden, Ont. She was married to Steven Windsor February 10, 1890, and the couple took up their residence in Carleton Place, Ontario, where they remained four years. Two sons were born to them, one dying nine years ago last January.

Seventeen years ago Mr. and Mrs. Windsor came to Yale, where they have since resided. Mrs. Windsor suffered for many years and several operations had been performed for her relief, but she was never strong, and her weakened constitution could not withstand the last one. Relatives from out of town who attended the funeral were Mrs. Alex. Hubbard, of Oshawa, Ont., sister; John Hubbard, Chatham, Ont., brother; Dr. Carter and wife and Robert Bailey, of Saginaw; Fred Scheurlecker, St. Clair; Gordon Jaynes, Crosswell; John and Hiram Windsor and wives, of Brown City; George Windsor and wife, of Mevin.

Card of Thanks—Steven Windsor and son feel very grateful to their neighbors and friends who did so much to help them, especially, too, the Eastern Star members who kindly made arrangements for music, and to those who sent floral offerings.

The unexpected death of David Carney caused much sorrow Saturday morning April 15, 1911, at 10 o'clock, when he was suddenly stricken with heart trouble and died. The deceased was living with his son at his home, five miles north of Peck when the end came. He was born June 7, 1847, in the town of Ray, Macomb county, Mich. He has resided in Sanilac county for the past 30 years. A wife and eight children besides a host of friends are left to mourn his loss. Funeral services were held on Tuesday from the Zion M. E. church, Rev. L. Clark, of Yale, preaching the sermon. Interment in the cemetery nearby.

Mechanic Street Church of Christ

There will be the regular services morning and evening next Lord's day. Morning hours 10:15 to 11:30. Evening 7:30 to 8:30. Bible school session commences at 11:30. Our contest is still on and grows in interest. Bibles, collection, presence and new scholars counts. There will be no YPSCE in this church next Lord's day but there will be a union YPSCE prayer meeting with the Presbyterian society at 6:00 o'clock p.m. The young people of the city are invited to attend these meetings. The opportunity to learn more about God's will to me is yours. Come to these services and learn what His will is. Prayer and praise service Thursday evening at 7:30. Strangers are welcome to worship with us.

A Social Gathering

The "Plus Ultra" class of the Mechanic street Church of Christ Bible School was royally entertained at the home of the president, Mayme Baxter. About twenty-six young people enjoyed the evening which was spent in playing games and singing. After light refreshments were served the young people departed, appreciative of the hospitality of sister Mary Baxter. This is the third delightful social gathering this class has enjoyed since it has been organized.—Communication.
